

CREATE LASTING CHANGE

How TRF Can Help

FOR MORE THAN 28 YEARS, The Resource Foundation (TRF) has been making it possible for corporations, foundations and individuals to support life-changing programs across the Americas and the Caribbean. In today's interconnected world, donors realize that cross-border giving can make a lasting difference in the lives of poor communities that often just need a hand-up to improve their lives.

At the same time, international grantmaking presents complex obstacles such as compliance, tax and efficiency issues, and cultural and language differences. Donors need a trusted advisor to help select effective local organizations they can support with confidence, and assess the real results and impact of their giving.

Since 1987, TRF has been guiding donors through the grantmaking process in the Americas and the Caribbean from beginning to end. With a multi-lingual staff, regional expertise and dedicated relationship managers, TRF helps donors optimize their impact by offering comprehensive services tailored to your specific needs and priorities:
